I'm not robot!

Open the Excel file in the Microsoft Office Excel application. Convert the Excel file using the Acrobat Ribbon. Click Create PDF, select which sheet you want to convert, and then give your PDF a file name to save it. View the converted PDF. PDF Maker is an Adobe Acrobat add-in that can be used in applications like Microsoft Office after you install Adobe Acrobat. When you have Microsoft Office 2010 or higher, the PDF Maker controls (ACROBAT tab) will appear on the main menu. This will give you options to convert an Excel file to a PDF. To convert an Excel spreadsheet to a PDF using Adobe PDF Maker, follow these simple steps. 1. Open the Excel file in the Microsoft Office Excel application. You can either open the Excel file directly from your desktop or through the MS Office Excel application. In the MS Excel application, click the ACROBAT tab in the top menu. 3. Click Create PDF, select which sheet you want to convert, and then give your PDF a file name to save it. If you can't see the ACROBAT tab in your MS Office application after installing Adobe Acrobat, check this guide to learn how to enable the Adobe PDF Maker add-in on MS Office. Tip: You can password protect the PDF by checking the Protect PDF checkbox found at the bottom section of the Save dialog. To view the converted PDF, use your favorite PDF reader app, such as Adobe PDF Reader or Foxit Reader. That's it! Now that you know how to use Adobe PDF Maker in your MS Office application, go ahead and convert your Excel files to PDFs.
